

SongRighter

David Martin & Tia Basak

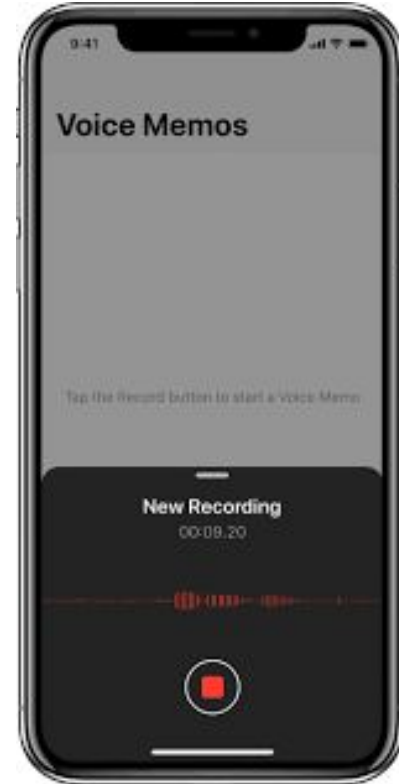

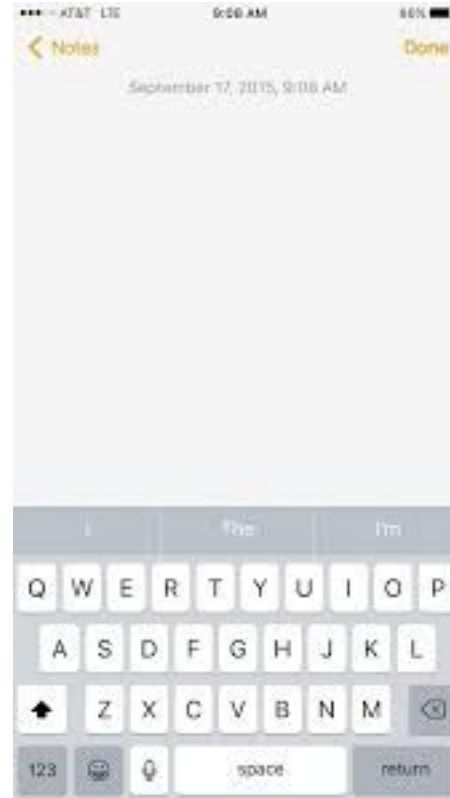

Why is SongRighter Valuable?

- Tracking and scheduling a creative processes is a difficult task.
- Artists need to keep their attention to the creative process not the scheduling and project management.
- Inspiration comes at any time, having a place to be able to fully capture that and focus it is invaluable.

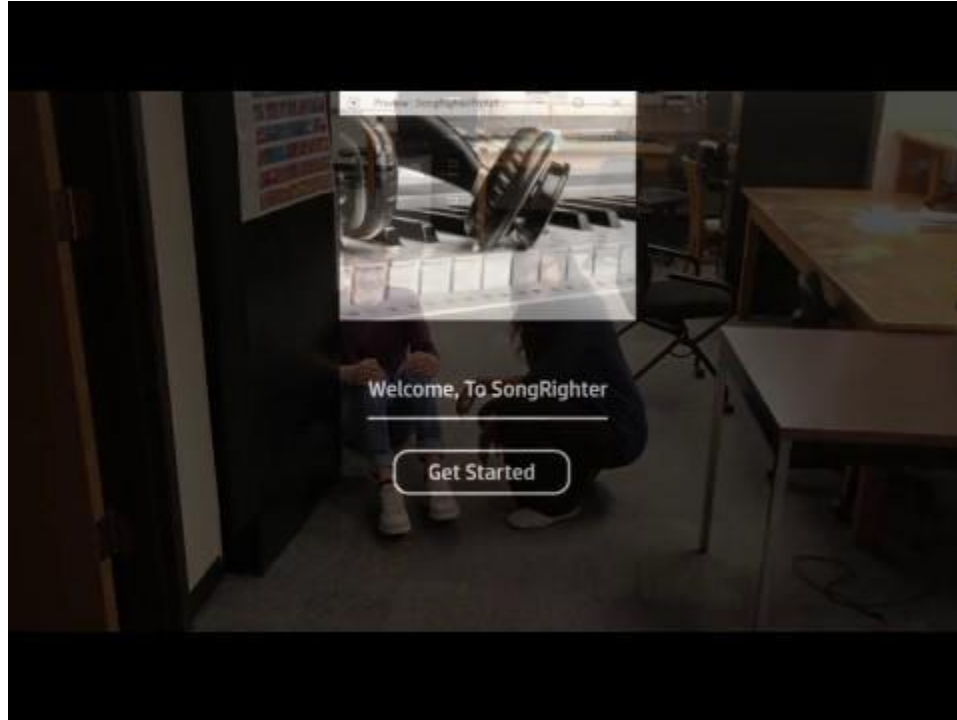

Artists' Struggles

- During our initial interviews, many potential users expressed their inability to conclude projects as they don't properly manage deadlines and push them off.
- They also often shared they wouldn't properly record thoughts or inspiration and would lose them.
- Most often they would use Notes and voice memos for capturing ideas:
